Berg Hortimotive

Automated systems contribute significantly to the cost-effectiveness of operations in greenhouse cultivation. Berg Hortimotive develops technologies and systems that simplify working processes and make them safer and more efficient. This creates a better overview of your operational management - from crop cultivation, harvesting and internal logistics right through to processing. In conjunction with Taks, we provide total fulfilment of the entire greenhouse handling process.

Innovators in motion

Taks greenhouse handling solutions

High-quality logistics is a crucial requirement in greenhouse cultivation. The importance of smooth harvesting and internal transportation processes cannot be overestimated. Taks develops all-inclusive crop processing and transport systems that guarantee fruit-friendly handling, save labour and considerably reduce workloads. In conjunction with Berg we offer a comprehensive solution, allowing you to reap the fruits of increased returns.
